CAMPAIGN OBJECTIVE

What this content should achieve

Make Akbari feel like a practical tool that helps real people plan their week, protect their time, and follow through on priorities.

Target audience

Students, founders, professionals, freelancers, and anyone who wants more structure without complicated productivity systems.

Core message

A better week starts when you can clearly see what matters and decide where your time goes.

CREATIVE DIRECTION

Make it feel native to your audience

Use these directions as a starting point. Do not copy them word-for-word. Your own voice and idea are part of what Kaba Bounty is paying for.

Content angles

- Plan a realistic week in under five minutes.
- Show the difference between a chaotic week and an organized one.
- Use Akbari for study planning, business goals, or personal habits.
- Share one planning mistake Akbari helped you fix.

Hook starters

- If every Monday feels like starting from zero, try this.
- This is how I stopped forgetting the important parts of my week.
- You do not need another motivation video - you need a clear plan.
- I planned my whole week in five minutes using an Ethiopian planner.

RECOMMENDED FORMAT

15-60 seconds · Vertical 9:16 · Clear voice · Strong first 3 seconds

Film in good light, keep on-screen text readable, and make the business or product easy to identify. Edit for retention, but do not make the video feel like a television advertisement.
